Reports.

The Prussian barque Catharina Jurgensen reports having had light South West winds throughout the passage till her arrival, kept company for several days with 5 vessels bound to the Northward.

The Bremen brig Patriot reports having had light winds and strong, head current all the passage till the arrival.

H.M. g-b. Janus from a Cruize brings no particular news.

The British steamer Undine reports having left Foochow on 26th, Swatow on 28th instant; arriving at Hongkong this morning. Ship Ellen Rodgers left Foochow on 24th, with Tea for London; S.S. Taeping-nyo left for Shanghai on 24th; H.M.S. Perseus, and Str. Gorilla in Amoy. Passed Str. Pesso on Sunday entering the River Min; S.S. Douglas off Thunder Head on Monday night, and a Steamer at 1 A.M. this morning. Experienced fine weather with light Southerly winds all the passage down.

The British steamer John Bright, Captain Beham, reports that she left Hongkong only twelve hours before the Benares, and that the lengthened passage she made is to be accounted for, by the fact that her bottom was thickly covered with barnacles, owing to her having lain in Hongkong Harbour for a period of six weeks, whilst the P. & O. steamer Benares had only lately been docked at Whampoa.

COMPLAINT.

IT is respectfully announced to the Public that Wong-sun of Min-chai-tong, whose title is Kam-shing, is known by all people; and his brother Chü-hing, also called Chü-hing-yee is also known by every person. But Wong-sun, in consequence of his failure in speculation of opium, in order to get rid of his debts, holds his properties in the name of Kam-shing, telling his brother Chü-hing to assume it. It was however detected by the clear investigation of the Magistrates and the corresponding evidence of the elders of the colony. On this, Wong-sun and his brother ought to be ashamed and keep silent, but they still argued in the newspaper.

THE appointed deputation waited yesterday upon the governor to ask him to postpone the consideration of the Stamp Act in committee of the Legislative Council until there had been time for the preparation of the memorial. We understand that in receiving the deputation the GOVERNOR gave vent to remarks on the whole subject which were not by any means complimentary to the way in which the demonstration had been managed by the Public Meeting. He wanted to know what the proposed memorial was to be about? They, the gentlemen who waited on him and the others for whom they acted were memorialising against a measure of which they know nothing. The schedule published in the Gazette was not the schedule which it was proposed to apply to Hongkong. They had not yet been told what the real proposals of the Government were. In effect, for of course we do not pretend to record his exact words, it was he said better for Hongkong not to have a voice as its own taxation, that he cared more for a memorial with arguments in it than for a thousand hazy signatures and that for this reason there was no need for the deputation to waste its time collecting signatures. The deputation may have been too much taken aback by all this to explain,—for we understand that it did not explain,—that the Governor's remarks about the schedule published in the Gazette were irrelevant. The deputation,—which, judging from the accounts of yesterday's interview which are current, does not seem to have performed its task in an extraordinarily brilliant manner,—represented a public meeting which mainly occupied itself with protesting in the most emphatic manner against the principle of a Stamp Act in this colony. Whether this or that schedule was proposed was a matter of comparatively no moment. If the public is not yet in possession of the exact details of the measure which is proposed by the government, that fact alone is the most crushing censure on the course which has been pursued by His Excellency which could be imagined. He disregards the standing orders of the Legislative Council, forces a measure which had never appeared in the Gazette after the first reading as it should have done, through the second stage against the earnest protests of the only members who have the power to raise a voice against him, and then, when at this eleventh hour the whole community rises like one man to beg him to reconsider what he is doing, he turns round and tells them that they are talking about what they do not understand, that the details of the measure which the government proposes to carry are not yet before the public! Not yet before the public when they are all but the law of the colony! We believe that when the first outcry against the Stamp Act was raised the GOVERNOR was most anxious to smooth over the antagonistic feeling and as it were to conciliate public opinion. It was very creditable to him that he was so anxious, and the letter which he wrote to Mr. WHITTALL and through him to the community in general showed very proper regard for public opinion, but it is not pleasant for the colony that its deputation,—for the public meeting did from its magnitude and constitution represent the whole European colony,—should be treated as it would seem the deputation was treated yesterday. That the meeting was greatly mismanaged must by this time be pretty well obvious to most people, but it is to be hoped that the GOVERNOR, when the memorial itself comes to be presented, will remember that it emanates not from one or two persons who may not have paid proper regard to his letter, but from the whole commercial community of this place.

The GOVERNOR would only consent to postpone the Council for one day and it is now appointed to meet to-morrow (Friday) at three o'clock.

THE change proposed by the Stamp Act is of such a multifarous character that we have had to leave unnoticed a great many points of importance. Amongst them is the proposal to charge what is called a Stamp duty against bank notes. This would not be a stamp duty at all in reality. It is acknowledged that it could never be imposed by means of an actual, stamp adhesive or impressed, on the notes themselves, but it is to be raised by a commuted charge upon the average circulation. This tax would really be a forced contribution levied on the banks, and its character should be acknowledged by eliminating it from any ordinance relating to Stamp duties and enacting it in a separate bill. Whether the circumstances of the colony warrant the policy of squeezing banks is another matter. There is a good deal of money to be extracted from them no doubt but whether in the long run any government can live by extorting its resources in large sums from rich men or corporations, instead of devising an equitable system of taxation which presses equally upon a whole community is to be doubted. The elementary idea of a stamp duty is this, that whenever money or valuable considerations pass from hand to hand the government steps in and taking advantage of the momentary high tide in the subject's pocket levies its little fee. Sometimes the stamp is paid for by one party to the transaction and sometimes by the other but as a rule by the side which profits. Bankers it is true profit by the issue of notes but they do a great deal of complicated work for their customers for which they receive no profit or an infinitely small amount, and they are paid by their gains in other ways, partly by the profit arising from the issue of notes. There is no more reason in the nature of things why this profit should be taxed in an exceptional manner than that which a merchant makes over Grey Shirtings, or the fees earned by a professional man. The so called stamp duty on notes can be nothing but a lump sum paid by the banker. He has no means of distributing it over his customers as the manager of an Insurance Office, for instance, may distribute the stamps he uses. It is so much off the dividends of the Shareholders and does not press in the slightest degree on the general community.

One argument against a Stamp Act in Hongkong brought forward at the public meeting on Tuesday, is utterly unanswerable. It is a sectional impost levied exclusively on the European residents, on a thousand or so of persons in a community which the GOVERNOR estimates at 145,000. Of course the majority of the Chinese here are almost below the level of taxation, but although there may not be a quite hundred taxable Chinamen for every European, well-to-do natives must still be incomparably more numerous than the Europeans. It was a striking assertion which was made by Mr. HEARD, but one which nevertheless bears careful reflection, that the magnitude of the interests represented by the Chinese here is not less than that of the interests represented by the Europeans. The character of the lower class Chinese is the secret of half our expenditure. They are the people whom it is expensive to govern, but they and all their countrymen are to escape financial burdens altogether, while the European is to pay everything. It is needless to argue that the native traders would escape the operation of almost any Stamp Act, as this is self-evident.

IT is really high time that the directors of the Hongkong &c., &c., Steamboat Company, should call a general meeting of the Shareholders and explain the position, and prospects of the association. During the struggle between the rival boats and their own, there was nothing for the Shareholders to do, but to accept the depreciation in the value of their property arising from the severe competition to which it was subjected and wait for better times. At last, however, it came to be known that this competition was to end, that the Company was to triumph and the whole Steamboat trade of the Canton river to be concentrated in its hands. The announcement must have been received with the most cordial satisfaction by the holders of Shares. Already the value of the Shares had been rising, there seemed every reason to believe that the troubles of the Company were passing away, and that a new era of premiums, and dividends was about to set in. Then the announcement was verified by the event. The rival firm retired from the contest, it became known that the Company would obtain possession of all the steamers, and in a few days the Company's flag took the place of Messrs. RUSSELL's, the fares were raised to a more remunerative rate than they had remained at during the competition and everything seemed to promise well, but the directors made no sign of taking the Shareholders into their confidence and the shares obstinately refused to rise. Since then they have again receded and we see them now quoted at 10 per cent. discount. The unaccountable silence of the directors is certainly in some measure the cause of this decline. We have received urgent complaints from Shareholders and echo a very strong opinion in making these remarks. The shareholders in a limited company, have it is true very limited rights. They put a certain amount of capital into a concern which they know is to managed by others and incur no indefinite responsibilities. If they win of course the directors are in high favor, but if they lose they are not entitled to abuse the directors, after the manner of an absent partner in an ordinary firm relieving his feelings at the expense of his active colleagues. We are not exactly denouncing the directors of the Steamboat Company for not calling a meeting but it is certainly a mistake on their part not to have done so before now. Unless there is a strong motive for so doing the directors of a company should not work in the dark, but should keep the shareholders well posted up in the affairs of the association which they constitute. In the present case there is a strong reason for letting them know what is going on. A great negotiation has been carried through; and it seems on the surface at any rate carried through successfully, but people do not know the terms on which it has been arranged and in face of a pertinacious silence on this subject they will jump to the conclusion that these terms are unfavorable. The Company has reached a turning point in its career, and outsiders are utterly unable to form opinions of their own about its prospects without fresh information; circumstances therefore call loudly for a special meeting of shareholders and a comprehensive statement of the company's affairs. In the course of a month or two we believe there will be general meeting in the ordinary course of things, but if ever an extraordinary meeting of shareholders in a joint stock association was desirable it is so now, in the present case.

A CONVICT KILLED.—Yesterday afternoon a gang of convicts were engaged in carrying material for filling in the ground near the new Shipping Office, their route lay through some of the worst regions of Ty-ping shan, and when passing through Gap Street, one of the gang managed by some means to break his chain and disconnect himself from his fellow. The gaol constable perceiving this, left the rest of the gang in charge of a police constable (who by chance happened to be there) and ran after the man, who attempted to make a bolt into one of the many dens in that locality. Upon observing this, the constable drew his revolver, and fired on the man, and managed to drill him clean through the body, killing him dead on the spot. An inquest will be held on the body at 10 A.M. to-day at the Civil Hospital.

The City Hall.

A meeting of the subscribers and shareholders of the City Hall was held yesterday afternoon at the club, Mr. RENNIE in the chair for the purpose of taking measures for the immediate commencement of operations. Plans and elevations representing every part of the building were laid on the table.

The CHAIRMAN stated that the committee had now in hand including the $50,000 lent or given by Mr. Robert Jardine, a sum of about $91,000. Mr. Hermite, the architect, had as the meeting could see prepared elaborate drawings and also a specification for the whole building in English and Chinese. The committee had advertised for tenders and amongst the bona fide tenders made were two, one for $79,600 and the other for $85,000. It was considered most advisable however that the higher of these two tenders, which was sent in by A'Wah should be accepted. The other contractor Ling-see was more a stone mason, but A'Wah was a very substantial man who had had great experience with important buildings in Hongkong and the committee unanimously recommended the adoption of his tender.

Mr. MACLEAN, after some little discussion as to the relative merits of the two contractors, moved, and Mr. Story seconded that his tender be accepted. This was unanimously agreed to by the meeting.

The CHAIRMAN said that they did not propose to lay the foundation stone until the materials were all on the ground and everything was ready for the rapid erection of the building. There would no doubt be some little ceremony on the occasion the Governor would lay the stone and there would probably be a luncheon or picnic to which people would be admitted by ticket as it would be of course impossible to devote the funds of the City Hall to a purpose of this kind.

Everybody agreed with everything that was said and the proceedings came there ore to a conclusion.

THE SMOKE OF BATTLE.—Between Pardubitz and Prague the Prussians took an imperial manufactory of tobacco, containing 3,800,000 lbs. of tobacco, and 27,000,000 cigars which would give 15lbs. of tobacco and 108 cigars to every Prussian soldier, estimating the army at 250,000 men.—Express.

Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Company.

The third annual general meeting of this company was held yesterday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce, and was numerously attended.

The Chairman Mr. R. Deacon in opening the business said that the Dock had proved about as remunerative during the past twelve months, as in the two first years of its existence. He should not make any further remarks, but at once ask the secretary to read the report.

The Chairman then proposed that the following report be adopted:—

GENTLEMEN,—In accordance with the terms of the Company's Deed of Settlement your Committee now beg to lay before you a Statement of Accounts and Report of the Year ended 30th June last.

PROPERTY AT WHAMPOA.

The Docks are now all in working order the new or Lookaun Dock has been recently opened thus affording the Company, greater facilities to meet the pressure of business which has at times been very great. This Dock is especially valuable on account of its depth which is not less than 21 feet on the Blocks.

On account of the unfitness of some of the old Buildings at Whampoa it has been found necessary, to erect new quarters for the workmen, The cost of which will amount to about $5,000 and the work is now being carried on.

ABERDEEN PROPERTY.

The new Dock at Aberdeen now in course of construction is progressing most favorably. The Caisson was commenced, a short time ago, and is now well advanced. The Steam Pump received from New York has been of great service.

H. M. Government have paid the additional sum of £6,000 or $28,800 alluded to in the last report, in consideration of the Dock being deepened to 24 feet. When complete this Dock will be of greater depth and of more commodious dimensions than any other in the East. The width at the entrance (in consequence of information received from the Agent of the Pacific Mail Steam Ship Company) has been increased in order to make it capable of taking Paddle Wheel Steamers of the utmost breadth.

STEAMER "FAME."

The Vessel continues to be of great service in towing vessels to and from Dock and in transporting materials. New Boilers have been put in her at a cost of $15,900.36 which causes her to stand upon the books at $42,553.41. She now stands at $35,000 the sum of $7,553.41 having been deducted and charged upon the Profit and Loss account.

The earnings of this Vessel about equal her account expenses.

SUSPENSE ACCOUNT.

At the last Annual General Meeting a sum of $9,347.25 was carried to Old Shareholders suspense account to meet outstanding claims which could not then be ascertained. This sum has been partly disposed of in the following manner Viz.

$2,153 for unpaid account of Schooner "Delphin."
1,050 for Sundries.
2,000 for Bonus to the Committee for the year 1864 and 1865.

the present balance is $4,144.11 out of which a sum of about $3,900 is to be paid and the small remaining balance will be carried to Profit and Loss account.

REGISTRATION.

The new Deed of Settlement has been in the hands of the Attorney General for a long time and it is expected that it will be ready for signature by the Share holders in about one month. When it is completed it will be necessary to call in the existing scrip and issue new.

DIVIDEND.

The net profit for the year ended 30th June being $79,480.57 your committee recommend it should be disposed of in the following manner viz.

14 per cent on the paid up Capital to be given to the General Shareholders.
$58,500 or $70 on each old share and $24½ on each new share. The $250 paid up on the latter being equal to $175 for twelve months.
9,000 to be divided amongst contributors in accordance with the provision in the Deed of settlement.
10,000 to be carried to a Reserve Fund and the Balance of
1,898.87 to new profit and loss account.
$79,488.87.

It may be as well to remark that the Dividend for the previous year was upon a paid up Capital of $160,000 which the present amount is nearly half a million.

COMMITTEE.

It is necessary to elect your Committee for the current year. Three of the Gentlemen at present acting Messrs O. T. Smith, Bosman, and Lapraik are willing to serve if re-elected, but two other Gentlemen must be chosen in place of the Hon. T. Sutherland, Chairman, absent in England and Mr. R. Deacon, who is about leaving the Colony.

Mr. G. D. Helland seconded the motion, which on being put to the Meeting, was carried unanimously.

Mr. J. O. Whyte then proposed that Messrs Smith, Bosman, and J. Lapraik, be reelected on the Committee, and that the Hon. Jas. Whittall and Mr. George Helland, be appointed to act in the same capacity in the place of the Hon. Thos. Sutherland and Mr. R. Deacon resigned.

Mr. Hart seconded the motion which was carried without a dissentient voice.

Captain J. H. Heaton next proposed that a bonus of $4000 be tendered to the Members of the Committee for their zeal and services to the company, for the past year.

Mr. J. C. Whyte seconded the proposition which was also unanimously accepted.

Mr. Bosman then proposed that the new deed of Settlement, which he held in his hand, just received from the Attorney General, before whom it had been laid, should be accepted by the Meeting as read, as from the lengthy nature of the document, it would take a week, sitting every day, to go through the clauses. It was necessary that a motion should be passed, at a general Meeting before the company could be registered, and suggested that the matter be left to the Committee.

In answer to questions from several of the shareholders, Mr. Caldwell, said that the course proposed would enable the company to be registered as a Limited Liability company at once, and any future alterations could be made at a General Meeting of the Shareholders. The proposition was necessary to carry out the alteration in the constitution of the company.

Captain Heaton thought that every shareholder ought to have been supplied with a copy of the new regulations.

Mr. O. H. Burrowes agreed with the last speaker, and decidedly objected to agreeing to anything that was not before them, and as the proposition of Mr. Bosman had not been seconded he proposed that the present meeting be adjourned until the 12th September next and copies of the proposed new deed of settlement be furnished to the Shareholders previously.

Mr. Cheverton seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

Mr. Geo J. Helland, then proposed and was seconded by Mr. O. H. Burrows that a special vote of thanks be given to the Hon. Thos. Sutherland, and Mr. Douglas Lapraik, for their great exertions in the interests of the company.

After this proposition had been carried unanimously and a vote of thanks passed to the chairman for his services, the meeting broke up.

New Roads in Hongkong.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY PRESS.

SIR,—In a recent issue referring to the estimates for 1867 and the deficient amount to meet them you say "the road to the gap is certainly not a necessary of life this year, and its postponement would solve the whole difficulty." May not your remark be supplimented by the enquiry is the Colony in any manner justified, under the present circumstances, in incurring this expense? Mr. Whittall at a late Council meeting expressed his opinion to the contrary and I believe that every member of that Council will upon consideration coincide in this. The steam hammer should be able to beat an anchor into shape or break a nut. In the distribution of the funds of this Colony by the Surveyor General's department there has been for many years too much of heavy hammering, and too little of the patient but incessant stroke of economical and carefully superintended labour. The reason is obvious and the cause natural enough. What professional man is there but would prefer a new business to investigating an old musty and forgotten case, what tradesman or mechanic but prefers making a new article to repairing an old. Besides it is more profitable to all concerned: to the recipients of the money certainly and if not so on the other side, yet the officers of our departments get the glory of the patronage at all events. Moreover is it not much more troublesome to spend small amounts, continuously required, for little reparations, than to make good lump payments to contractors at one time. Then again one naturally feels that when one is assigning, and carrying out, and passing for large undertakings he is doing a great deal of work. But the idea of spending $23,000 for a wide carriage road, which is to go no-where, which is not intended to shorten any travelled distance, to relieve any crowded thoroughfare or indeed to develop any new land worth the name seems marvellous. There are one or two good sites in the line proposed. The best of these however could be easily approached from the present high road. The land for the most part is very precipitous, and for a 30 feet road the cutting must be very deep, and continual slips of earth will be taking place. Instead of $23,000 would it not be better to spend $1,000 in making a path such as all our roads originally were. This will enable people to walk up and take time to judge for themselves of the locality, its salubrity or otherwise. Were it found attractive, as Scandal point used formerly to be, then at some future time a proper road might be constructed, when we may hope to be in funds, $1,000 might then be spared for the Puk-fo-lum road, which admits of its outlay to great advantage. I quite agree with your Correspondent "A Disciple of MacAdam" in your impression of 7th inst. that the Colony should mend and complete its present roads, with side channels &c., and remove the rocks, before entering into expensive luxuries of new roads which will necessitate a constant charge thereafter also for repairs, and the wider the road the heavier the expenses. I suppose that the Garden Road was not intended simply to line out the Public Garden but to be a continuation of Robinson Road, but it is of no use for this purpose, whilst the latter remains in such bad repair that one cannot walk or drive on it with any comfort.—Yours faithfully,

"NEVER TOO LATE TO MEND."

Police Intelligence, August 29th.

BEFORE W. MITCHELL, Esq.

NO PASSES.

Six men, and one woman, were charged with being abroad last night contrary to the Police Regulations.

They all had various ingenious excuses to bring forward, two of them asserting that they were only sleeping outside the door of their house on account of the heat of the night.

Three more it appears, by the evidence of P. C. 118, had only one pass between them, and adroitly tried to pass it round, and dodge the constable, but he was too sharp for them.

The Prisoners were all fined small amounts, and the individual who owned the pass of which he attempted no make such bad use, was fined $2, and the pass confiscated to be returned to his master who had given it to him.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

John Smith seaman on board the American ship Bunker Hill, was charged with being drunk and disorderly in the Street last night.

Sergeant Abbott, said that he saw prisoner at about half past six last night, he was walking in Hollywood Road, with a large staff (now in court) in his hand, he was "pretty far gone," but could manage to walk along.

Prisoner said that he only shipped yesterday, and got $15 advance, of which after paying the boarding master, he only had $1.50 left, which was partly the cause of his getting drunk.

He was fined $1, or in default to be imprisoned for two days.

THE WATER POLICE.

The ceremony of swearing in thirteen Chinese constables for the water police force, was gone though this morning, the second batch within a very short time.

It is stated that these men will not remain in the force for any length of time, as their pay is quite inadequate to the duties they have to perform, and that they only join the police force as a sort of make shift when they are "hard up," and leave it as soon as something better turns up.

Now, if true, this is certainly a great mistake, for, as soon as the men begin to understand their work and get accustomed to their duties, they leave, and a fresh lot come, who have to be broken in; besides it totally precludes the possibility of ever obtaining what we so much require, viz—men of long standing in the service who can be depended upon in any sudden emergency that may arise.

MR. BARNARD AND THE POLICE.

A rather amusing case came before the police court to-day, in which Mr. O'Toole, Inspector of markets, summoned T'soy-a-yuen, a wholesale fruit and vegetable dealer, carrying on business at No. 30, Praya, for obstruction of the public thoroughfare.

It appears that the defendant had already, on the information of Inspector O'Toole, been twice fined for the same offence, and on this occasion, attempted to bring a charge of extortion against that officer, and employed Mr. Barnard as his instrument in the affair.

Mr. Barnard, who has but lately come to this colony, appeared to be considerably led away either by his ignorance of Celestial humbug, or by professional zeal, accused Inspector O'Toole (who has been long in the police force of this colony, and bears a high character for sobriety and honesty) of extortion, squeezing, drunkenness and various other small failings, and stated in the first place that he (Inspector O. Toole) had this morning only, sent down a message to defendant to say that he need not appear in Court. Mr. Barnard however was so struck with the manner in which Inspector O'Toole had taken advantage of his position to squeeze the defendant, that apart from being fe'ed, he considered it his bounden duty to make the public acquainted with the manner in which the police imposed upon a highly respectable class of Chinese.

Inspector O. Toole did not put in an appearance, and a constable was dispatched to bring him up to court, Mr. Barnard remarking that he was a professional man and his time was valuable.

On appearing, His Worship very properly reproved him for not duly attending court to prosecute his summons, and remarked that he was sorry to say from what he had seen, that he was of opinion that many summons cases in which the defendants were really deserving of punishment, dropped through, because the Inspectors did not appear, to give evidence against the parties who were summoned on their information.

The case then commenced.

Mr. O'Toole, stated that he charged defendant with continued obstruction of the Praya, opposite to his shop, by placing baskets, some full of fruit, and some empty, on the foot-walk, and he had been instructed by the Surveyor General to take out a summons against the defendant. This morning it appears that he had cleared the place, and had he always kept it as this morning, the summons would never have been issued. The defendant had been previously fined, and his premises were not sufficiently large for the business he carried on.

Cross-examined by Mr. Barnard.

The orders from the Surveyor General did not apply individually to the defendant in this case, but to obstructions generally. I have not those written instructions with me. I did not send my boy or any one else this morning to the defendant to tell him that he need not appear in court. On the day this summons was taken out there was no thoroughfare at all through the baskets. I went to defendant's house about a fortnight ago about annoyance. I do not know about his respectability, but I know that if he does not keep the thoroughfare clear, the Surveyor General will take away his license, I have told you before that I did not send a boy or any one else to defendant's house this morning to tell him that he need not appear in court.

P. C. Marino, does not know defendant, but he knows No. 30 Praya. He saw baskets of fruit on the footpath the day before yesterday, opposite defendant's house, large baskets of two or three picul's each. Witness told some of the shop boys to take them inside the shop. He had been ordered to do so by the Inspector of markets. He had often seen the same thing before. Sometimes the pathway is quite blocked up. It was so on Saturday last.

Cross-examined by Mr. Barnard, sometimes the path way is blocked up for more than an hour together at about five o'clock in the afternoon, and six and eight in the morning.

Lee-a-ani, is called, whom Mr. O'Toole objects to as being a partner in the concern, but witness says he is not and has only lately come from Foochow, where he was interpreter.

He knows the defendant, and thinks he must sell about 200 Tls. worth of vegetables in one day. He sells wholesale, not less than 20 catties. The vegetables generally arrive at daylight in the morning, and are landed as quickly as possible, and although they are landed on the pathway there is always room enough left for ten people to pass. Witness knows nothing about a message being sent by the Inspector this morning, to the effect that defendant need not attend the court.

Mr. Barnard tried to argue that this was a civil proceeding, and wanted to put defendant in the witness box, but the magistrate very properly would not allow it, and it appeared from defendant's own statements that he himself was not in the shop at all at the time in question.

The magistrate wished to know, that as witness said he had no connexion in any way whatever with the concerns of No. 30, Praya, how it was that he seemed to know so much about the business, to which witness who was remarkably (and rather too much so) ready with his answers, said that he heard all the news at meals, and a cousin of his had a share in the shop.

In spite of Mr. Barnard's ingenious arguments and the "high respectability of his client," which the learned gentleman particularly dwelt upon, the magistrate had too much good sense either to remand the case, or to allow the defendant to be put in the witness box, and the learned gentleman made up for this, by a very long speech, in which he introduced several ingenious but quite inapropos arguments the chief of which was that as his client was in a large way of business and making a good deal of money, he ought to be rather encouraged in carrying on his business than fined for obstructing the thoroughfare in the pursuit thereof. The learned counsel continually laid stress upon the high respectability of his client, with which he appeared considerably impressed, and quoted Covent Garden market as a point in his arguments. He allowed that to a certain extent his client was compelled to block the thoroughfare on account of the large business he carried on, but it was only for a very short time, and if His Worship would allow him to put defendant in the witness box, he would fully prove the assertions which he had made in the first place. He had no other witness present, and should His Worship permit, he would be glad to remand the case without any additional fee from his client. He argued that Mr. May, the late magistrate had given special permission to wholesale dealers to put baskets in the gutter opposite their house, and that this was all that his client had done, and never on any occasion blocked up the footpath so as to cause what might in law, be called an obstruction.

The magistrate summed up all the evidence in a very able manner, and disposed of the many ingenious arguments used by the learned counsel for the defence, one by one, and expressed himself fully satisfied with the evidence already adduced. He said that although as a body, and generally speaking, he was sorry to say that he could not say much in favour of our police force, he was glad to see that the aspersions thrown by the learned Counsel on the character of Inspector O'Toole were altogether groundless, and he should consider the case of defendant as an aggravated one, as he had been twice previously fined for the same offence.

He should therefore in this instance inflict the heaviest fine allowed by law, viz £5—or $24.

BELGIUM.—The unsettled state of affairs in Central Europe, and the many possible contingencies which might be produced by the present complications, have caused a feeling of anxiety throughout one of the youngest Kingdoms of Europe. Upon the death of the late King Leopold addresses of condolence, as well as of assurance, were presented to the new Sovereign. In addition to written replies to those addresses, the King Leopold II. promised to present himself to the populations of the various great towns of the Kingdom; and, in compliance with that undertaking, His Majesty has since his return from England commenced a tour through his dominions, which, under the present circumstances of Continental affairs, will offer to his subjects an opportunity of expressing their views as to the arrangements of 1831. The first city, as you are probably aware, visited by the King, accompanied by his Queen and the Count de Flandre, has been Ghent, where the Royal party have met with a most enthusiastic reception, and an address of sincere devotedness to the dynasty was presented by the Mayor. At a banquet at which the Royal visitors were subsequently entertained, the King, in acknowledging a toast in honour to his and the Queen's health, expressed his gratitude for the loyal reception which he and his family had met with, and pledged himself to advance to the utmost of his power the interest not only of the town of Ghent, but of all Belgium. The reception of the Sovereign in the Townhall as in the streets of Ghent was most cordial, and the same acountmay be given of their progress through the numerous smaller towns which interpose between the capital and that city. At all points throngs of people were collected, who testified their contentment with the ruling dynasty by loud and sustained cheering—a unanimity of sentiment which, however agreeable to His Majesty, must tend to make his contemplated tour perhaps happily, a somewhat monotonous journey —Letter from Brussels.

Mr. Bosman then proposed that the new deed of Settlement, which he held in his hand, just received from the Attorney General, before whom it had been laid, should be accepted by the Meeting as read, as from the lengthy nature of the document, it would take a week, sitting every day, to go through the clauses. It was necessary that a motion should be passed, at a general Meeting before the company could be registered, and suggested that the matter be left to the Committee.

In answer to questions from several of the shareholders, Mr. Caldwell, said that the course proposed would enable the company to be registered as a Limited Liability company at once, and any future alterations could be made at a General Meeting of the Shareholders. The proposition was necessary to carry out the alteration in the constitution of the company.

Captain Heaton thought that every shareholder ought to have been supplied with a copy of the new regulations.

Mr. C. H. Burrowes agreed with the last speaker, and decidedly objected to agreeing to anything that was not before them, and as the proposition of Mr. Bosman had not been seconded he proposed that the present meeting be adjourned until the 12th September next and copies of the proposed new deed of settlement be furnished to the Shareholders previously.

Mr. Cheverton seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

Mr. Geo J. Helland, then proposed and was seconded by Mr. C. H. Burrowes that a special vote of thanks be given to the Hon. Thos. Sutherland and Mr. Douglas Lapraik, for their great exertions in the interests of the company.

After this proposition had been carried unanimously and a vote of thanks passed to the chairman for his services, the meeting broke up.

New Roads in Hongkong.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY PRESS.

SIR,—In a recent issue referring to the estimates for 1867 and the deficient amount to meet them you say "the road to the gap is certainly not a necessary of life this year, and its postponement would solve the whole difficulty." May not your remark be supplemented by the enquiry is the Colony in any manner justified, under the present circumstances, in incurring this expense? Mr. Whittall at a late Council meeting expressed his opinion to the contrary and I believe that every member of that Council will upon consideration coincide in this. The steam hammer should be able to beat an anchor into shape or break a nut. In the distribution of the funds of this Colony by the Surveyor General's department there has been for many years too much of heavy hammering, and too little of the patient but incessant stroke of economical and carefully superintended labour. The reason is obvious and the cause natural enough. What professional man is there but would prefer a new business to investigating an old musty and forgotten case, what tradesman or mechanic but prefers making a new article to repairing an old. Besides it is more profitable to all concerned; to the recipients of the money certainly and it not so on the other side, yet the officers of our departments get the glory of the patronage at all events. Moreover is it not much more trouble to spend small amounts, continuously repaired, for little reparations, than to make good lump payments to contractors at one time. Then again one naturally feels that when one is assigning, and carrying out, and passing for large undertakings he is doing a great deal of work. But the idea of spending $23,000 for a wide carriage road which is to go no-where, which is not intended to shorten any travelled distance, to relieve any crowded thoroughfare or indeed to develop any new land worth the name seems marvellous. There are one or two good sites in the line proposed. The best of these however could be easily approached from the present high road. The land for the most part is very precipitous, and for a 30 feet road the cutting must be very deep, and continual slips of earth will be taking place. Instead of $23,000 would it not be better to spend $1,000 in making a path such as all our roads originally were. This will enable people to walk up and take time to judge for themselves of the locality—its salubrity or otherwise. Were it found attractive, as Scandal point used formerly to be, then at some future time a proper road might be constructed, when we may hope to be in funds. $1,000 might then perhaps be spared for the Poko-fu-lam road, which admits of its outlay to great advantage. I quite agree with your Correspondent "A Disciple of MacAdam" in your impression of 7th inst. that the Colony should mend and complete its present roads, with side channels &c. and remove the rocks, before entering into expensive luxuries of new roads which will necessitate a constant charge thereafter also for repairs, and the wider the road the heavier the expense. I suppose that the Garden Road was not intended simply to line out the Public Garden but to be a continuation of Robinson Road, but it is of no use for this purpose, whilst the latter remains in such bad repair that one cannot walk or drive on it with any comfort.—Yours faithfully,

"NEVER TOO LATE TO MEND."

Police Intelligence, August 29th.

BEFORE W. MITCHELL, Esq.

NO PASSES.

Six men, and one woman, were charged with being abroad last night contrary to the Police Regulations.

They all had various ingenious excuses to bring forward, two of them asserting that they were only sleeping outside the door of their house on account of the heat of the night.

Three more it appears, by the evidence of P. C. 118 had only one pass between them, and adroitly tried to pass it round, and dodge the constable, but he was too sharp for them.

The Prisoners were all fined small amounts, and the individual who owned the pass of which he attempted no make such bad use, was fined $2, and the pass confiscated to be returned to his master who had given it to him.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

John Smith seaman on board the American ship Bunker Hill, was charged with being drunk and disorderly in the Street last night.

Sergeant Abbott, said that he saw prisoner at about half past six last night, he was walking in Hollywood Road, with a large staff (now in court) in his hand, he was "pretty far gone," but could manage to walk along.

Prisoner said that he only shipped yesterday, and got $15 advance, of which after paying the boarding master he only had $1.50 left, which was partly the cause of his getting drunk

He was fined $1, or in default to be imprisoned for two days.

THE WATER POLICE.

The ceremony of swearing in thirteen Chinese constables for the water police force, was gone though this morning, the second batch within a very short time.

It is stated that these men will not remain in the force for any length of time, as their pay is quite inadequate to the duties they have to perform, and that they only join the police force as a sort of make shift when they are "hard up," and leave it as soon as something better turns up.

Now, if true, this is certainly a great mistake, for, as soon as the men begin to understand their work and get accustomed to their duties, they leave, and a fresh lot come, who have to be broken in; besides it totally precludes the possibility of ever obtaining what we so much require, viz—men of long standing in the service who can be depended upon in any sudden emergency that may arise.

MR. BARNARD AND THE POLICE.

A rather amusing case came before the police court to-day, in which Mr. O'Toole, Inspector of markets, summoned T'soy-a yuen, a wholesale fruit and vegetable dealer, carrying on business at No. 30, Praya, for obstruction of the public thoroughfare.

It appears that the defendant had already, on the information of Inspector O'Toole, been twice fined for the same offence, and on this occasion, attempted to bring a charge of extortion against that officer, and employed Mr. Barnard as his instrument in the affair.

Mr. Barnard, who has but lately come to this colony, appeared to be considerably led away either by his ignorance of Celestial humbug, or by professional zeal, accused Inspector O'Toole (who has been long in the police force of this colony, and bears a high character for sobriety and honesty) of extortion, squeezing, drunkenness and various other small failings, and stated in the first place that he (Inspector O. Toole) had this morning only, sent down a message to defendant to say that he need not appear in Court. Mr. Barnard however was so struck with the manner in which Inspector O'Toole had taken advantage of his position to squeeze the defendant, that apart from being fee'd, he considered it his bounden duty to make the public acquainted with the manner in which the police imposed upon a highly respectable class of Chinese.

Inspector O. Toole did not put in an appearance, and a constable was dispatched to bring him up to court, Mr. Barnard remarking that he was a professional man and his time was valuable.

On appearing, His Worship very properly reproved him for not duly attending court to proceed with his summons, and remarked that he was sorry to say from what he had seen, that he was of opinion that many summons cases in which the defendants were really deserving of punishment, dropped through, because the Inspectors did not appear, to give evidence against the parties who were summoned on their information.

The case then commenced.

Mr. O'Toole, stated that he charged defendant with continued obstruction of the Praya, opposite to his shop, by placing baskets, some full of fruit, and some empty, on the foot-walk, and he had been instructed by the Surveyor General to take out a summons against the defendant. This morning it appears that he had cleared the place, and had he always kept it as this morning, the summons would never have been issued. The defendant had been previously fined, and his premises were not sufficiently large for the business he carried on.

Cross-examined by Mr. Barnard.

The orders from the Surveyor General did not apply individually to the defendant in this case, but to obstructions generally. I have not those written instructions with me. I did not send my boy or any one else this morning to the defendant to tell him that he need not appear in court. On the day this summons was taken out there was no thoroughfare at all through the baskets. I went to defendant's house about a fortnight ago about annoyance. I do not know about his respectability, but I know that if he does not keep the thoroughfare clear, the Surveyor General will take away his license. I have told you before that I did not send a boy or any one else to defendant's house this morning to tell him that he need not appear in court.

P. C. Mavius, does not know defendant, but he knows No. 30 Praya. He saw baskets of fruit on the footpath the day before yesterday, opposite defendant's house, large baskets of two or three picul's each. Witness told some of the shop boys to take them inside the shop. He had been ordered to do so by the Inspector of markets. He had often seen the same thing before. Sometimes the pathway is quite blocked up. It was so on Saturday last.

Cross-examined by Mr Barnard,—sometimes the path way is blocked up for more than an hour together at about five o'clock in the afternoon, and six and eight in the morning.

Lee-a-sai, is called, whom Mr. O'Toole objects to as being a partner in the concern, but witness says he is not and has only lately come from Foochow, where he was interpreter.

He knows the defendant, and thinks he must sell about 200 Tls. worth of vegetables in one day. He sells wholesale, not less than 20 catties. The vegetables generally arrive at daylight in the morning, and are landed as quickly as possible, and although they are landed on the pathway there is always room enough left for ten people to pass. Witness knows nothing about a message being sent by the Inspector this morning, to the effect that defendant need not attend the court.

Mr Barnard tried to argue that this was a civil proceeding, and wanted to put defendant in the witness box, but the magistrate very properly would not allow it, and it appeared from defendant's own statements that he himself was not in the shop at all at the time in question.

The magistrate wished to know, that as witness said he had no connexion in any way whatever with the concerns of No 30. Praya, how it was that he seemed to know so much about the business, to which witness who was remarkably (and rather too much so) ready with his answers, said that he heard all the news at meals, and a cousin of his had a share in the shop.

In spite of Mr. Barnard's ingenious arguments and the "high respectability of his client," which the learned gentleman particularly dwelt upon, the magistrate had too much good sense either to remand the case, or to allow the defendant to be put in the witness box, and the learned gentleman made up for this, by a very long speech, in which he introduced several ingenious but quite in apropos arguments the chief of which was that as his client was in a large way of business and making a good deal of money, he ought to be rather encouraged in carrying on his business than fined for obstructing the thoroughfare in the pursuit thereof. The learned counsel continually laid stress upon the high respectability of his client, with which he appeared considerably impressed, and quoted Covent Garden market as a point in his arguments. He allowed that to a certain extent his client was compelled to block the thoroughfare on account of the large business he carried on, but it was only for a very short time, and if His Worship would allow him to put defendant in the witness box, he would fully prove the assertions which he had made in the first place. He had no other witness present, and should His Worship permit, he would be glad to remand the case without any additional fee from his client. He argued that Mr. May, the late Magistrate had given special permission to wholesale dealers to put baskets in the gutter opposite their house, and that this was all that his client had done, and never on any occasion blocked up the footpath so as to cause what might in law, be called an obstruction.

The magistrate summed up all the evidence in a very able manner and disposed of the many ingenious arguments used by the learned counsel for the defence one by one, and expressed himself fully satisfied with the evidence already adduced. He said that although as a body, and generally speaking, he was sorry to say that he could not say much in favour of our police force, he was glad to see that the aspersions thrown by the learned Counsel on the character of Inspector O'Toole were altogether groundless, and he should consider the case of defendant as an aggravated one, as he had been twice previously fined for the same offence.

He should therefore in this instance inflict the heaviest fine allowed by law, viz £5—or $24

BELGIUM.—The unsettled state of affairs in Central Europe, and the many possible contingencies which might be produced by the present complications, have caused a feeling of anxiety throughout one of the youngest Kingdoms of Europe. Upon the death of the late King Leopold addresses of condolence, as well as of assurance, were presented to the new Sovereign. In addition to written replies to those addresses, the King Leopold II. promised to present himself to the populations of the various great towns of the Kingdom; and, in compliance with that undertaking, His Majesty has since his return from England commenced a tour through his dominions, which, under the present circumstances of Continental affairs, will offer to his subjects an opportunity of expressing their views as to the arrangements of 1831. The first city, as you are probably aware, visited by the King, accompanied by his Queen and the Count de Flandre, has been Ghent, where the Royal party have met with a most enthusiastic reception, and an address of sincere devotedness to the dynasty was presented by the Mayor. At a banquet at which the Royal visitors were subsequently entertained, the King, in acknowledging a toast in honour to his and the Queen's health, expressed his gratitude for the loyal reception which he and his family had met with, and pledged himself to advance to the utmost of his power the interest not only of the town of Ghent, but of all Belgium. The reception of the Sovereign in the Townhall as in the streets of Ghent was most cordial, and the same account may be given of their progress through the numerous smaller towns which interpose between the capital and that city. At all points throngs of people were collected, who testified their contentment with the ruling dynasty by loud and sustained cheering—a unanimity of sentiment which, however agreeable to His Majesty, must tend to make his contemplated tour perhaps happily, a somewhat monotonous journey —Letter from Brussels.

POST OFFICE NOTIFICATION.

The constant changing of the Chinese sent to the Post Office for Correspondence on the arrival of Mails has rendered it necessary to make a rule that no Correspondence shall be delivered to Coolies who are not furnished with an authority from their Employers.

It is suggested, however, for better identification and to avoid the necessity for written authorities on each occasion, that Boxholders should furnish themselves with Metal Badges bearing their names in English and Chinese, which Badges should be worn by the Coolies on the right arm when applying for correspondence.

A Pattern of the proposed Badge can be seen at this Office.

Extracts.

Disraeli on Public Affairs.

Mr. Disraeli in a recent speech at Aylesbury said. He did not disguise from himself that they had taken office in a very critical period, but among the questions which had to be determined in Europe he saw none which called for the interference of this country. He denied energetically that the modern doctrine of non-intervention was an acknowledgment of England's decadence. He looked upon the abstention of England from unnecessary interference in the affairs of Europe as an evidence rather of its increasing strength, because the truth was England had outgrown the European continent; the position of England was no longer that of a European Power merely, for she was the metropolis of a great maritime empire extending to the boundaries of the furthest ocean. "I do not say," Mr. Disraeli proceeded, "that there may not be occasions on which it is the duty of England to interfere in European wars. If the independence of this country were menaced, or if her vital interests were attacked, as on previous occasions they have been, we know very well that the energy of England would not rest until the cause of danger and disturbance had terminated. If there were such a state of affairs as existed in the sixteenth century under the Spaniards, when we were in constant danger of invasion; if there were such a state of affairs on the Continent as prevailed under Louis XIV or the first Emperor Napoleon, of course England would interfere in the affairs of a Government the proceedings of which might menace her independence and her integrity. But I do not suppose there is any one, whatever may be his general political views, who for an instant entertains the idea that the independence of England is menaced at this moment or that her vital interests are attacked." At the same time if all this was true, Mr. Disraeli hoped that if a Congress should meet—and it might be nearer than we supposed—we should not shrink from taking our part in its deliberations. On our relations with America the right hon. gentleman said. "There never was a period in which I think a better understanding existed between the Government of the United States and of Her Majesty than the present. We have recently had a memorable instance of the good feeling of that Government towards this country in the manner with which they have dealt with the Fenian insurrection in America; but what is more gratifying even than that, the exhibition of that good feeling on the part of the Government of the United States is a proof offered to the world of the real efficiency and power of that form of Government. Never were more prompt, energetic, and efficient measures taken than were taken by the Government of the United States on that occasion; and the manner in which they fulfilled their international duties, and the cordial sentiments with which they communicated with this Government, have consolidated what was before a deep and cordial feeling on the part of the people of this country towards that Government. Having referred to the subject of Fenianism, Mr. Disraeli expressed his opinion, which he said was that of his colleagues, that the condition of Ireland was not satisfactory. The vast emigration from the country was a most unsatisfactory symptom of its condition. "I acknowledge," he said, "that under some conditions and even general conditions, emigration is the safety-valve of a people. But there is a difference between blood-letting and hæmorrhage. What I see in Ireland is not that scientific depletion which reanimates health and gives fresh vigour to the constitution, but a wasting away of nature, which I think ought to be stanched, and the political sympton that is required under the circumstances it is the duty of statesmen to discover. I never will myself support measures which, however plausible in theory, may violate the great principles of political economy, because I know that those principles can never be outraged with impunity. Nevertheless, I hope that the existing Government may find means of introducing measures with respect to Ireland, the general tendency of which would be to check emigration." Some of the Aylesbury people took the opportunity of their member's visit to put before him a memorial relative to the high rate of discount, suggesting that if his predecessor in office had not added to the letter of licence which he addressed to the Bank the condition that the rate of interest should not be less than 10 per cent that rate would now have diminished. If the memorialists had any expectations founded on the pleasure which a new Chancellor of the Exchequer might be supposed to find in reversing a predecessor's policy, they were disappointed, for Mr. Disraeli observed:—"It is my opinion, after having duly considered the subject, that the rate of interest, if the letter of licence to the Bank had been unaccompanied by any conditions, would be exactly the same that it is at this present moment. For five years this country had indulged in a system of speculative commerce such as had never before been known in our annals. The consequence is that throughout the Continent of Europe there is a floating mass of English commercial paper of unprecedented amount; and these commercial bills are daily forwarded to London, where, instead of being met as they would have been at a period of wholesome commerce and of established credit, they are met by a demand for bullion and for bullion alone. While this drain is going on it is totally impossible that we can look for any reduction of the rate of interest, and you may rest assured that there is no legislative means by which you can artificially settle the rate of interest at any time. Time, peace, and a good harvest must be looked to for a remedy for this state of things." Parliamentary Reform was thus dealt with by Mr. Disraeli:—"I hear very often—or perhaps I should rather say I read very often—that the subject of Parliamentary Reform is the great difficulty of the present Ministry, and will be their stumbling-block. I am entirely of a different opinion. I see no difficulty at all in the subject; and if we stumble, rest assured that we shall not stumble over the subject of Parliamentary Reform. If Parliamentary Reform is to be dealt with I consider that the present Government have as good a right to deal with it as any body of statesmen in existence. The great Reform Bill of 1832 was not only devised by Lord Derby, but was entirely carried by his energy; and the only measure on the subject of Parliamentary Reform since the great Reform Bill that is ever mentioned with respect is the one I introduced myself in the year 1859. I have seen during the recent campaign in the House of Commons that every division which took place and every strong manifestation of opinion which was given ratified the principles on which the bill of 1859 was founded. Night after night in that House I saw gentlemen sitting opposite me, distinguished Liberals of all hues, rise, and in a tone of courteous penitence publicly avow how much they regretted that they had voted against that bill of 1859. I want to know, under those circumstances, what is to prevent us, if the question is to be dealt with, from dealing with it in as efficient a manner as any other body of public men. We must understand it, or at least we ought to understand it, better than some who have dealt with it; and therefore I am not at all prepared to admit that the subject of Parliamentary Reform is a source of trouble to the present Ministry, or that it will be one of the causes of their downfall, if that downfall should ever occur. Having frankly made this statement I will further tell you that I am not going to give any pledge on the part of her Majesty's Goverment that we will deal, when Parliament meets next year, with the subject of Parliamentary Reform. We hold ourselves perfectly free to do that which we may deem best for the country in the matter."—(Pall Mall Gazette.
